Senate Increases Tax Cut

Votes Reduction
Of $5,788,000
And Bill Goes
To Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The house declined today to concur in senate amendments to the first peacetime tax-cutting bill which eases wartime burdens by about $5,500,000,000.

The measure now goes to a joint senate-house committee to iron out differences.

The complete erasure of 12,000,000 low income persons from the income tax rolls in 1946 is assured, however.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The Senate's $5,788,000,000 tax reduction bill, fundamentally different from the $5,350,000,000 measure passed by the House, headed today for a conference committee which will adjust the variations.

The Senate took a seven-hour look yesterday at its finance committee's handiwork, added another $155,000,000 of relief, then passed the bill by a voice vote.

The senate bill proposes to relieve individual income taxpayers by $2,644,000,000 next year, corporations by $2,934,000,000 and owners of automobiles and boats by $140,000,000 through repeal of the use tax.

In addition, it would repeal $70,000,000 in excise taxes, on such things as stoves, cameras and sporting goods, imposed in 1941 to discourage the use of scarce materials.

The house bill called for cutting taxes of individuals by $2,627,000,000, corporations $1,888,000,000, car and boat owners $140,000,000, and excise taxes by $695,000,000, through repeal of the wartime levies on luxury and semi-luxury products and through refund of the tax on food stocks of liquor and light bulbs.

After the house goes through the formality of rejecting the senate changes, the house and senate conference committee will get together—probably Friday—to work out the final form of the legislation.

Wide Varieties in Versions
House and senate versions vary so widely in so many particulars that the conference committee is expected virtually to rewrite the measure.

Speed is essential. Internal revenue officials would like to know the final form of the bill by Nov. 1 so they can prepare and send out revised withholding tables and tax blanks to offices all over the country.

The tax cut would apply to next year's income; the tax bill on this year's income will be figured on present law.

In effect, though not in method, the two houses were not far apart on the individual income tax cuts. The senate bill is estimated to reduce the burden $2,644,000,000. The house bill $2,627,000,000.

Both start in by allowing payers of the 3 per cent normal tax the exemptions granted sur-

Plan Expansion On Air Mail

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 25—(AP)—All domestic first class mail will be carried by air in the future, Postmaster General Robert Hannegan indicated here yesterday.

The possibility of such air mail expansion is under consideration, he told a news conference.

A general survey is being made of postal rates, both foreign and domestic and the information will be submitted to congress, reported Hannegan, who was in Little Rock to address a banquet of the young Democratic clubs of Arkansas.

Commenting on the reported offer made Senator J. W. Fulbright for the presidency of Columbia university, the national democratic committee chairman said he hoped the senator would retain his senate position.

"The senate would lose a most capable man," he said.

Hannegan was to return to Washington today to address a meeting there.

About 16,500 Servicemen

Returns On Chest Drive Again Lagging

Returns on the Community Chest Drive are lagging. All solicitors are out working and are asked to turn in their reports as soon as possible so that some total may be arrived at.

All solicitors are requested to make all call backs on those they have not been able to contact as rapidly as possible and all returns reported this week.

Prospective Car Buyers To See New Fords

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25—(AP)—Prospective car buyers will be able to see the new model Fords tomorrow when they go on display throughout the St. Louis area, J. P. Roberts, Ford Motor company manager, announced.

Each dealer will have at least one 1946 car, Roberts said, but the cars will not be sold immediately because a ceiling price has not been received from the OPA.

Injuries Fatal In Motorcycle- Auto Collision

Herbert Detmer,
Returned Veteran,
Dies at Hospital

Herbert L. Detmer, 22 years old, veteran of World War II, died at 11:35 o'clock this morning at the Bothwell hospital from injuries received in a motorcycle-automobile accident at Main street and Park avenue about 10:40 o'clock Wednesday night. The veteran, a staff sergeant in the United States Army Air Corps, had returned home hardly two weeks ago after having seen action as an aerial gunner over enemy territory in the European theatre of war.

Detmer, rider of the motorcycle, was going east on Main street as was a Plymouth sedan driven by J. D. Simmons, Georgetown, and as Mr. Simmons turned left to go north on Park avenue, the wheel struck the right fender of the automobile. The youth was thrown high into the air and nearly thirty-five feet east of where the collision occurred.

Fracture at Skull Base

Witnesses at the accident said Detmer appeared to have struck the pavement on his neck and shoulders, which caused a fracture at the base of the skull. He also received a fracture of the right ankle and other bruises and contusions. He was taken to the Bothwell hospital where he received treatment from Dr. W. T. Bishop and Dr. John B. Carlisle.

Police conducted an investigation. He was born in Sedalia February 5, 1923, received his grade school education at Whittier school and then attended Smith-Cotton high school from which he was graduated in the class of 1942.

On Thirty-nine Missions

He entered the service on January 5, 1943 from Sedalia going first to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. He received his training at Harlingen, Texas, Army Air Field, and received his wings as an aerial gunner at Salt Lake City, Utah. He left the States on February 5, 1944 and went to Africa. He flew missions over Sicily, Italy and Germany, making thirty-nine in all, as a nose gunner.

Detmer returned to the United States in August 1944, and was sent to Miami Beach, Fla., and later to Harlingen AAF for a refresher course then assigned to Las Vegas, AAF as an instructor. His last few months of service was at Camp Hann, California. He received his discharge on October 4, and arrived home on the eighth.

The young man received the Air Medal and ribbon, had the European Theatre of War ribbon with five battle stars and also three Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal, Good Conduct ribbon, and had received several citations for combat missions.

When a child he was baptized in the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Surviving him is his mother, Mrs. Olevia G. Detmer, of the home, 1516 West Main street, and his father John A. Detmer, 616 East Twelfth street, numerous uncles and aunts. His friends could be numbered only by his acquaintances in and out of the army.

The body was taken to the Ewing Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements have not been made. Tentative plans have been made for funeral services at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Ewing funeral home.

The body is at the funeral home.

Further Delay On Counties' Classification

Argument Gets Tempers Aroused
In Hour's Debate

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 25—(AP)—Objections by Democrats today forced delay on a key county classification bill for the second straight day.

Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley agreed to lay the bill over until after the trial of Sen. Joseph A. Falzone (R) of St. Louis County, which starts Monday.

On the motion of Sen. Francis Smith (D) of St. Joseph, who predicted the Falzone hearing would "take at least one week and perhaps two," the county classification squabble was set as a special order of business for the first day when the senate is not busy with the Falzone case.

Debate For Hour
The deferment came after more than an hour of debate in which Sen. E. R. Caldwell (D) of Perry predicted the house approved classification putting 77 counties into one group would bankrupt the small counties and make it impossible for them to operate.

He sought to have a special committee named to analyze the whole involved problem and report back to the senate but was voted down.

Sen. Emory Allison of Rolla, Democratic floor leader, set the stage for delay by declaring that "my conscience won't permit me to vote for this bill until I know more about it." He said the more he thought about it the more skeptical he got and added:

"I realize how important it is, but I wonder if it's so important that it must be passed whether we understand it or not."

Allison said he was not convinced that the four proposed classes could be subdivided for purposes of setting up salaries as argued by some senators. If they can be, he said the same argument would apply if there were only one class for all counties. He recommended that all be left in one group for the time, allowing further legislatures to thresh out the problem.

Tempers frayed before the debate ended. At one point, Sen. H. B. Hart (R) of Versailles shouted that the house approved bill was "a deliberate attempt to force consolidation" of smaller counties.

On a voice vote the senate rejected an amendment by Sen. Jess D. Sexton (D) of Lawson which would have added six counties—Nodaway, Saline, Pettis, Clay, LaFayette and Franklin—to class two by making it cover all counties with assessed valuations between $300,000 and $300,000,000.

Talks To Club On Kiwanis

The Rev. H. U. Campbell, the Rev. Bird Campbell and L. J. Banner, chairman of the Kiwanis Education committee, joined in presenting a verbal picture of the historical background of Kiwanis International at the local club's meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

They reviewed in turn the progress of the organization from the days of its founding in 1914-15 up until the last international convention.

Dan Robinson presided as program chairman.

President Clyde Heynen and Secretary Elmer Sterling reported briefly on the recent district convention they attended in Kansas City.

Mrs. Nellie Monegan, club pianist, was welcomed back after a vacation. During her absence Miss Dorothy Ann Reed acted as pianist.

Club directors and committee chairmen will hold their monthly meeting Friday noon at Allgaier's restaurant.

Marine Billy Garland was a guest of his uncle, Charles Van Dyne.

Find Weather Balloon In Tree

A U. S. government balloon, with weather instruments attached, was found Wednesday in a tree on the George Stemberger farm, three miles north of Smithton. A call was made to the sheriff's office that the balloon was there and Peter Stohr, of the highway patrol, recovered it.

The instrument box was on the ground and the balloon to which it was connected by heavy cord was in the tree about fifteen feet above. The box, which held the instruments and a battery, bore the date May 9, 1945.

Great Ships in For Navy Day The Boy Scouts

President Truman
To Review Fleet
Units Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—(AP)—Naval craft ranging from some of Uncle Sam's mightiest seagoing fighters down to diminutive patrol vessels left berths in New York harbor today and steamed slowly into the fog-shrouded Hudson river to their anchorages for the most spectacular Navy Day in the city's history.

Fifty fleet units, already acclaimed and inspected by hordes of New Yorkers, will anchor along the Hudson for review Saturday—Navy Day—by President Truman. Later they will return to their piers for further visits by civilians.

Rear Adm. Monroe Kelly, commandant of the Third naval district, said 1,200 navy planes—the greatest number ever assembled for such an occasion—would roar overhead as the president's review ship moved along the line of warcraft.

One of the latest arrivals for the ceremonies was the 45,000-ton super-carrier Midway, which sailed in unheralded last night, 24 hours ahead of schedule.

Meanwhile, Vice Adm. Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator, directed the 4,300 vessels of the American merchant marine, including approximately 200 now in New York harbor, to dress

Points Cut for Butter and Fats

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The OPA announced today that ration values on butter, margarine, lard, shortening and oils will be cut four points a pound next Sunday.

For all of these products the new value, effective through Dec. 1, will be eight points a pound.

Current points costs will be maintained during the new period for all prime cuts of beef, veal and lamb and for lean cuts of pork. Lower grades of beef, veal and lamb will continue ration-free.

The only meat changes are reductions of two to four points a pound for six fatty pork cuts and for barbecued pork.

The point reductions for butter, margarine and other fats and oils are possible because of a much improved supply situation, said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

There will be about 12 per cent more butter in November than during this month, chiefly because of release of 80,000,000 pounds by the army, Bowles said. Lard supplies are expected to be up about 39 per cent from heavier marketing of hogs.

The fat cuts of pork assigned lower point values include backs, plates, jowls, and bacon plates and jowls. Regular bacon remains at six points a pound.

Degrees to Eisenhower, Clark and Winant

OXFORD, England, Oct. 25—(AP)—Fabled Old Oxford university conferred honorary degrees today upon Gen. Eisenhower, Gen. Mark W. Clark and U. S. Ambassador John W. Winant.

A number of prominent Britons also were given degrees. Among them were Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Field Marshal Lord Alan Brooke and Air Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder.

Ten Troops in Races, Stunts and Various Contests

Fun Night for all Scouts in this district was held Wednesday evening at the Armory, and fun was the keynote of the whole evening.

Ten troops took part in the program of races, relays, stunts and contests. The troops were all led by their local leaders.

Field Executive A. W. Schlumbohm of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, B. S. A., assisted J. L. Stohr, district camping and activities program chairman. The entire planning and promotion of the "Fun Night" was under Mr. Stohr's direction with troop leaders acting as judges.

Winners In Events

Units taking part in events were Troops 50, 52, 53, 54, 56, 57, 58, 60, 65 and 67. One hundred twenty-five scouts entered the following events and placed first, second and third, respectively: Sack race, "Blow Hards" troop 60, 64 and 65; ball roll, "Kick Hards" all declared winners; cracker contest, "Chew Hards" troops 54, 52 and 53; broad jump, "Leap Hards" troops 53, 50 and tie for third 57 and 54; Paul Revere race, "Ride Hards" tie for first troops 57, 58, second 56, and third 65; feather shot putt, "Throw Hards" troops 57, 50 and 53; chariot race, "Run Hards" troops 60, 50, 53, 58, 56, 67, all placed; chair carry, "Hit Hard" troops 57, 65 and 67.

To the winners went handful of fresh roasted peanuts in the shell. District chairman, Judge J. V. Kesterson, dispensed with the peanuts to troop winners. A big handful was allowed third place winners, two big handfuls for second place and three big handfuls for first. Judge Kesterson declared extra bonuses frequently and the winners soon stocked up a troop supply of peanuts.

The last event included the awarding of participation ribbons to all troops present. Troops filed by the peanut sack and made one last grab for a handful of peanuts before leaving for home.

John Ryan, district commissioner, acted as participation judge in determining the winners of events. Troop committees were also present and assisted event directors and judges.

Landon Gets Critical Over Foreign Policy

Outlines Six Point Program on World Security

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 25—(AP)—Criticizing the administration's foreign policy, Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, said today that if Russia refuses the "proffered hand of the peace seeking nations, we must not shrink from the tragic fact that a new aggressor is on the prowl."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Kiwanis club, Landon outlined a six-point program which he suggested as the U. S. foundation for world security.

"You can't build an international organization for collective security on the quicksilver of vindictive, ruinous and imperialistic settlements that lack any constructive ideas," he said.

Proposed Policies

The former Kansas governor's proposed program:

1. Make the USA sound financial mooring post "for the rest of the world to tie to by reversing our present unsound fiscal policies of borrowing and spending unlimited."

2. Reverse the German policies for which the U. S. largely is responsible. Put Germany on an economic, self-sustaining basis.

3. All nations abandon extra-territorial practices. "The U. S. should stand in the Far East as advocating in substance what we did in the Philippines where we set the model for colonial treatment and development of self-governing communities."

4. Insist on "honest and intelligent, reasonable" application of the principles of the Atlantic charter before we make any gifts. Follow for the most part Woodrow Wilson's 14 principles for peace.

5. Seriously and thoroughly consider internationalization of the atomic bomb and of the few hitherto key spots in the world providing all world nations have shown a genuine willingness to band together and work together for peace.

6. If Russia refuses the "proffered hand of the peace seeking nations, we must not shrink from the tragic fact that a new aggressor is on the prowl."

"Why discuss the policy of the appeasement or non-appeasement of Russia?" Landon asked. "Either, on the course we have been pursuing, simply means more friction."

"In addition to the fiddling policy of making loans, we are to have the greatest navy, the greatest army, the newest, greatest weapon for a while. All history proves the futility of that policy. "We are seizing strategic bases in a speak easy sort of way and then wonder why the world should look at us with cynicism and suspicion."

"The race between Russia and the United States to obtain strategic bases is fooling no one but the American people—who are still being doped with soothing syrup that differences between ourselves and Russia is one of language and inexperience in foreign affairs."

Criticizing treatment of Germany, Landon said, "We will not stabilize the world as long as we push the basic error of the ghastly insane Morgenthau plan in the treatment of Germany. . . No nation has ever been taught democracy with a bayonet."

Cancel Flights Due to Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 35—(AP)—American Airlines announced today it had cancelled flights between Chicago and New York because of a strike by mechanics and maintenance workers in the two cities.

A spokesman for the United Auto Workers (CIO), predicted the entire system of American Airlines would be tied up by this afternoon.

The flight cancellations came after 155 Chicago workers joined a strike of 658 workers in New York.

Maintenance workers walked out after the union's negotiating committee reported inability to reach an agreement with management on wage increases.

Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union, called the walkout "illegal" and authorized his union members to cross the picket lines. Quill's union claims that it, rather than the UAW, represents the workers.

In Detroit, American Airlines cancelled all ingoing and outgoing flights as 15 ground service and maintenance men employed at the city airport joined striking mechanics in New York and Chicago.

Drastic Order Given From MacArthur To Jap Government

United Nations Going Concern

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The United Nations is a going concern—on paper.

Conceived at San Francisco by representatives of half a hundred nations "determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war," the organization came into formal being at 3:45 p. m. (CST) yesterday.

A few pen scratches on diplomatic parchment by Secretary of State Byrnes made the San Francisco charter "a part of the law of nations."

Byrnes subsequently said that maintenance of peace "depends not on any document, but what is in the minds and hearts of men."

The organization to keep the peace is not actually functioning yet.

The assembly is scheduled to hold its first meeting in London in December. Some time later the all-powerful, 11-member United Nations security council will cut out for it.

When the organization does go into action it will have its work meet.

It may start out on some not-too-difficult problem, such as whether wartime neutrals Switzerland and Sweden should be admitted to the United Nations.

Rep. Bennett Opposes Dam Proposal

Says Osceola Project Would Destroy Towns

By Charles C. Haslet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—Rep. Bennett, (R-Mo) asked the house flood control committee today to strike from a pending deficiency appropriation authorization measure provisions for funds to start construction of the Osceola dam in Missouri.

The dam, authorized in the 1938 flood control act, would be built on the Osage river in St. Clair county, Mo.

In testimony prepared for delivery before the committee today, Bennett asserted he was for flood control but "not for creating a permanent flood of vast proportions in my district."

He also is opposed, he said, to asking his congressional district to "bear a disproportionate share of the sacrifice to provide others lower on the stream with flood protection or for the people in Kansas City with recreation and a market for Pendergast ready-mix cement."

At full flood stage the dam would inundate 295,000 acres of which 150,000 is cultivated land, 65,000 acres pasture and 79,000 acres timber.

Says Towns Be Destroyed

Seven towns in the area would be destroyed, he declared, and three largely inundated. Four thousand people would have to move from their homes.

The tax base in Bates, Vernon and St. Clair counties would be completely upset and a forced consolidation would be "almost inevitable" because of increased tax burdens.

Missouri's state department of resources and development advised him, he said, that annual

Severance of Relations With Foreign Powers Demand Made

TOKYO, Oct. 25—(AP)—General MacArthur today ordered Japan to sever relations with all foreign governments and to turn over its diplomatic properties and papers throughout the world to the Allied powers.

The order, issued "by direction of the Allied powers," told the Japanese government to recall "immediately" its diplomatic and consular representatives home from neutral countries.

Purpose of the order, other than the apparent one of revealing to the Allies all Japan's diplomatic and consular secrets, was not disclosed. It came to MacArthur from the joint chiefs of staff at Washington.

(Official explanation for the drastic order was not immediately available from Washington sources.)

In its sweeping implications the order was comparable to one issued by MacArthur a few weeks ago, in which he directed that all records of Japan's banking and industrial concerns which had furthered that nation's imperialistic ambitions be delivered to occupation authorities.

French Communications Still Hopelessly Snarled

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS — When the postman rang at the Parisian's door during the occupation years, he very often was a life-saver. A great many postal and railway employees worked actively in the Resistance and precious packages of food from the country regularly arrived in Paris and other large cities despite rigid German control. Now, suffering from overstrain and overwork, not to mention undernourishment, postal employees, as well as telephone and telegraph workers, show an extremely high incidence of sickness. As a result, French communications systems are in a state of confusion. Paris postal service dealt with an average of 20 million letters, postal cards and packages daily in 1938. Today, although traffic has almost doubled, the postal workers dispose of only half the number of mail cars formerly handled. Although more than a year has passed since France was liberated, the telegraph and telephone systems, too, are bogged down so that service is inefficient and delays are frequent. Complaints and criticism became so numerous and so bitter that the Minister of Posts, Telegraph and Telephone felt it necessary to explain the difficulties of his situation to the general public. While admitting that the public was amply justified in its reprimands, Monsieur Eugene Thomas explained that most people did not realize that destruction of installations extended over a period of five years, during which repairs had been impossible. On top of that, in the course of four years of occupation, the Nazis pillaged two-thirds of existing stocks and requisitioned 4,000 tons of copper. The grave shortage of coal and cement has halted the reconstruction of the Harve, Lille and Maubeuge telephone central stations, which were among the most important of the French system. Circuits which before the war totaled some 470,000 miles were reduced by half at the time of liberation. Actually they cover 392,000 miles, which represent a considerable effort in repairs. Among the major radio stations, Pontoise, Lyons and St. Pierre-des-Corps were completely destroyed, and those of Bordeaux, Le Harve and St. Nazaire were badly damaged.

Paris Bottleneck
During the occupation 180,000 new telephone subscribers were clandestinely connected in Paris, with the result that the metropolitan system is suffering from a serious bottleneck. More than 50,000 Parisians and 60,000 provincials have applied for subscriptions. Only 5,000 of these requests can be granted before the end of the year, and then only in one sector of the city. The remainder will have to wait until the second half of 1946, and the demand for new subscriptions is expected to increase. Some of the international telephonic communications have been restored. The Paris-Antwerp line is functioning, and the two circuits which linked France with Switzerland are again in operation. Seven of the 30 lines between Paris and London have been repaired. Another problem facing the French communications system is the grave shortage of personnel. Recruiting stopped in 1938 and has just been resumed.

Fencing Match

Sailors arriving in New York with the fleet refuse to be fenced in — and who can blame them? Some of the thousands of Pacific seadogs couldn't get shore leave, but no barrier could keep them from warm greetings of sweethearts and relatives. Here the girls get a boost from the gobs. The fencing match was a snacking success.

Corporal Gerald Thomas Loses Belongings in the Typhoon

Mrs. Jesse Thomas, 408 North Quincy avenue, is in receipt of a letter from her son, Corporal Gerald Thomas, of the 147th U. S. infantry in Okinawa, apprising her that in the typhoon which struck there on Tuesday, October 9, that he lost many of his personal belongings.

All of the living quarters of those about him and all his things were blown away he declares and adds that he saved himself by running to the hills and getting inside of an old Japanese tomb where he remained until the terrific gales subsided. Its duration was for two days he asserted.

Stationary on which he wrote home was some he found four days after the storm and which when he was writing was still water soaked.

The young Sedalian was also in the first typhoon which struck on September 16 and it lasted for a couple of days.

His company had just arrived there from Tinian and his living quarters were blown from him during the typhoon, but in both instances he fortunately escaped alive.

Corporal Thomas has been in some of the important war developments and was in on the invasion and seizure of Iwo Jima which was one of the most vital activities in the war in the Pacific.

Edw. Heffernan Again Director

Two hundred thirty-one farmers from 14 central Missouri counties attended the annual stockholders' meeting of the Jefferson City Production Credit Association, Saturday, October 20th held in Jefferson City. Election of board members highlighted the session.

Two board members, Edward Heffernan, Pettis county and Arnold E. Bedworth, Callaway county were re-elected. Foree Belwood, Jr., Saline county, was chosen to finish the unexpired term of Charles D. Peterman.

According to a report made by C. H. Maupin, secretary-treasurer, the association lent nearly $2,000,000 during the past year, reflecting quite an increase in membership.

Principal speakers of the day were Fred Ringham, secretary of the Bank of Cooperatives of St. Louis, talking on the growth of co-operatives and the benefits they have brought to farmers. S. A. Morrow, vice president of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Louis, talking on the growth of stock ownership and Gordon Nance, extension economist from the department of agriculture of Missouri University, talked about what is ahead for the farmer.

Music was by the Jefferson City high school band.

Authority On Strike From GMC Workers

DETROIT, Oct. 25—(AP)—Employees of General Motors Corp., in plants throughout the country voted 70,853 to 12,437 yesterday in favor of a strike to support the demand of their union for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

The figures, announced today by the Regional National Labor Relations Board here, bore out earlier predictions of both the corporation and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) that a work stoppage would be favored.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, said in a statement, however, that it did not mean an immediate strike. Only the union's international executive board, he said, could authorize a strike, and it would not do so "unless and until our attempts to arrive at a peaceable settlement fail completely."

The union currently is engaged in negotiations with General Motors Corp., on the 30 per cent wage demands.

Reuther said yesterday's vote was "a mandate" to the union leadership to press the demands "to a successful conclusion."

There was no immediate statement on the result of the vote from General Motors.

As the ballots in the General Motors vote were being counted a strike vote was being conducted by the NLRB among employees of 22 Chrysler Corp. plants.

Chrysler Corporation's 125,000 eligible employees were polled on the strike issue today as early returns from similar balloting among General Motors workers indicated an overwhelming majority in favor of a work stoppage.

The Chrysler vote, affecting employees in 22 plants, was the second in the CIO United Automobile Workers' plan to extract a 30 per cent wage increase from all the major car manufacturers. In the first—among some 325,000 General Motors workers in 97 plants throughout the nation yesterday—a union spokesman estimated that 100,000 took part.

Criticism On OPA Use of Slips

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The OPA came under sharp Republican fire today for enclosing printed arguments on holding the price line in envelopes containing allotment checks.

Speaking directly to Price Administrator Chester Bowles at a senate banking committee hearing, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared: "You are propagandizing for continuance of OPA. You are trying to stir up all the people of the United States against the business people."

Bowles replied that the material merely said that inflation is a bad thing.

"Is anything wrong with that?" he asked. "Is it debatable?"

Taft countered that the printed slips had no business in army allotment envelopes and noted particularly they said consumers should refuse to pay a penny over price ceilings.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) remarked that the law setting up the Office of Price Administration "doesn't say to put throw-aways in military envelopes."

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) interjected that he was "glad" OPA did it.

Senate in Increase Of Tax Cut

tax payers ($500 apiece for the taxpayer and each dependent). The house voted to trim 4 percentage points off each of the graduated surtax rates. The senate said take off 3 percentage points, then reduce the tax thus computed by 5 per cent.

The result in the case of 32,000,000 first-surtax-bracket taxpayers, is the same—a combined normal and surtax rate of 19 per cent on taxable income above exemptions, instead of 23 per cent under present law.

A married man who earned $2,500 and had two dependents would pay $95 tax under either version, compared with $160 under the current tax.

Some of Differences
The two chambers were a good deal farther apart on corporate taxes.

The house voted to reduce the rate of the excess profits tax from 85.5 per cent to 60 per cent next year and to repeal it on Jan. 1, 1947.

It also voted to repeal the capital stock tax and the declared value excess profits tax, and to cut the combined normal and surtax rate on corporations from 40 per cent to 36 per cent.

The total corporate reductions under the house bill would amount to $1,888,000,000.

The senate accepted corporate cuts totaling $2,934,000,000. It voted to repeal the excess profits levy outright next Jan. 1, meanwhile giving smaller corporations some relief on their 1945 incomes by stipulating that each should have combined credits and exemptions against the tax of not less than $25,000.

The senate voted small business more relief by ordering reductions in the graduated surtaxes applicable to corporations with annual income of less than $60,000. Like the house, it sanctioned repeal of the capital stock and declared value excess profits levies.

The senate conferees will press for adoption of their veterans relief provisions, which would forgive enlisted personnel all federal income taxes on their service pay during the war years and extend the time for officers to pay up their back taxes.

Both houses are in agreement on freezing the social security payroll tax gain in 1946 at 1 per cent each on employers and employees. Otherwise the tax automatically would mount to 2½ per cent next Jan. 1.

Big E's Ice Cream Profits Pay For Tailor, Cobbler and Barber

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—The function of an aircraft carrier, quite obviously, is to destroy enemy ships, planes and military installations. Comfort and convenience always have to be subordinated to that primary purpose. And yet, within cramped limits, it is amazing how much is done on such a ship as the Enterprise to make life endurable for American sailors.

The food, provided at a cost of about 65 cents a day for enlisted men and at a charge of $1 a day for officers, is tops. Enlisted men get mattress covers and pillow slips, officers get sheets and pillow slips and both have their clothing laundered free once a week. There are free movies, with a daily change of picture and two showings each evening on the hangar deck.

What An Appetite

Hot coffee is available 24 hours a day to everybody. In the officers' ward room and at 85 authorized coffee rendezvous, equipped with hot plates and coffee makers, steaming java is kept on tap at all hours. If none of those is convenient, anybody can drop in at a galley for a cup or a bucket.

Ice cream is on the menu twice a week for everybody, and at one of the ship's four stores the Enterprise's officers and enlisted men buy 150 gallons a day in 5c cups.

With the profits from ice cream and soda sales, Commander Chas. M. Boundy of Seattle, ship supply officer, finances a free tailor shop where ready-made sailor uniforms can be given what he calls "that navy skin-tight effect"; a cobbler's shop where shoes are half-soled free; a barber shop with one chair for officers and six for enlisted men—no charge.

There is a clothing store where $500 worth of shirts, underwear, socks, work clothing, unrationed shoes and miscellaneous clothing items are sold daily at cost.

Two of the most popular gobs aboard the Enterprise are the ice cream men, S. J. Wendell and Frank Maupin, Ashland, Ky. In addition to twice-weekly servings which total 200 gallons, the boys produce 1,500 cups of ice cream daily for retail trade aboard ship.

For 50 cents a carton the sailor can buy all the cigarettes he can smoke. In September Commander Boundy sold 86,990 packs of the popular brands. At that same store he offers candy, razor blades and shaving items, soap, shampoo and tooth brushes, nine brands of cigars ranging up to Corona Coronas, five types of pipes, nine brands of smoking and two of chewing tobacco, ten brands of lighters and a wide variety of other articles.

Whenever the Enterprise heads for the United States, the supply officer tries to stock up with souvenir and gift items for the boys to take home. About $10,000 worth of perfumes, compacts, alligator hand bags, silk stockings and wallets were put aboard when the Big E started home for Navy Day.

These services are intended primarily for the crew of the Enterprise. But during the war, the Big E found herself playing mother to some of the less self-sufficient smaller craft.

A destroyer with limited storage space would come alongside and ask for some fresh meat, eggs—and "by any chance might you have a head of lettuce, or perhaps a cabbage that you could spare?"

Another destroyer, out for 14 months, would pull up and report herself out of cigarettes, out of clothing supplies, with broken down laundry or baking oven that wouldn't work. The Big E would help.

"Time after time," says Boundy, "we've gone without bread on the Enterprise to help out the fellows in some little ship that was having hard luck."

Opposed Secrecy On Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—Two scientists today opposed clamping secrecy on atomic energy and nuclear physics, asserting such a step would be fatal to this country's national security.

Dr. Henry Dew Smyth, Princeton university physicist, put it this way in testimony to a joint Senate military-commerce subcommittee considering legislation to create a national science foundation:

"Secrecy in nuclear physics will smother the hope of progress not only in that science but in all the other sciences... continued secrecy means national scientific suicide. It also means international scientific isolation, which is equally fatal to our progress."

Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, asked the senators to suppose that at the time the automotive engine was invented the War Department had decided it might have military uses and had imposed secrecy on study of high octane fuels, thermodynamics and engine design.

"Other countries operating without such prohibitions would have forged far ahead of us," he said. "When this world war broke out we would have lacked what was perhaps our greatest asset, namely, the great industrial know-how and productive capacity which enabled us to throw overwhelming amounts of mechanized equipment into the field."

Vote Authority To Call Strikes

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25—(AP)—Employees of the Chevrolet Fisher body plants and the Corn Products Refining company here authorized their union officials to call a strike in a vote taken yesterday.

The automobile employees, members of Local 93, U. A. W.-C. I. O., voted 995 to 51 in favor of a general strike to support a 30 per cent wage increase demand. Results of the vote will be forwarded to the National Labor Relations Board to be compiled with similar action taken in other General Motors plants throughout the country.

In the Corn Products company vote, members of Local 1216, C. I. O., of the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employees, favored the strike by a vote of 248 to 86.

A 30 cents an hour wage increase and union shop is the issue on this case.

The balloting was supervised by the regional office of the N. L. R. B.

Dies of Wound In Mystery Shooting

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—(AP)—Joseph McKnight, 46 year old auto dealer and former WMC consultant in Jacksonville, Fla., died last night of two bullet wounds suffered Tuesday night after a mysterious shooting in a loop tavern.

Police Capt. Thomas Duffy said that Julius (Dollie) Weisberg, former Chicago night club owner, was being held without charge in connection with the slaying.

Chief Justice Harold G. Ward in criminal court yesterday refused to release Weisberg from custody on a writ of habeas corpus sought by his attorney. He gave police until 2 p. m. today to accumulate evidence on which to base a formal charge against Weisberg.

Duffy said that McKnight earlier yesterday had identified Weisberg as the man with whom he quarreled in the tavern—the Regent Room at 1 North La Salle street. Duffy said McKnight was unable, however, to identify him as the man who fired the shots which fatally wounded him in the left shoulder and abdomen. Police sought to find some of the 50 persons who were in the tavern at the time of the shooting.

King of Hoboes and Wife To Celebrate

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—(AP)—Jeff Davis, king of hoboes by election and self-appointed shepherd of them, today sent word ahead to his missus in Cincinnati that he's en route with the makings for their 45th wedding anniversary toast in Washington park at midnight October 29.

Jeff said he met his future wife "near that big rock" in Washington park one day in 1900 when both were trying to land the same job in the music hall across the street. They were married, Jeff says, at that same spot at midnight October 29, 1900, and have drunk a toast there every five years since.

Jeff claims the first toast was drunk in soda pop, but this year things will be different. As he was leaving Milwaukee, a stop in his Victory Bond selling tour, somebody gave him two quarts of champagne.

Tavern Owner Is Found Shot To Death

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25—(AP)—Albert Sredojev, 56, tavern owner, was found shot to death in his automobile in North St. Louis early today, and police said a soldier told them the shooting followed an evening of drinking and a quarrel over a woman.

Police said the soldier, Sgt. Claude M. James of Ferguson, Mo., signed a statement admitting he shot Sredojev four times with Sredojev's revolver early Tuesday in front of a tavern operated by the woman, Mrs. Virginia Evelyn Owens, on Riverview Drive.

Following the killing, police said James told them he took Sredojev's wallet containing $325, wrapped the body in a blanket and drove with Mrs. Owens in Sredojev's car to a point near Robin and West Florissant avenues where they abandoned the car and the body.

Insurance Men Will Meet

Several Sedalia insurance men will attend the mid-year meeting and state conference of the Missouri Association of Life Underwriters to be held in Jefferson City Friday and Saturday. The Sedalia Life Underwriters Association is one of the host groups.

L. J. Banner, of Sedalia, is second vice president of the state association.

Adam Rosenthal, St. Louis, president of the Missouri association, will preside over the opening session Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The meetings will be held at Hotel Governor, where a fellowship banquet will be served at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening.

During a national association conference Friday afternoon, Herbert A. Hedges, Kansas City, immediate past president; Philip B. Hobbs, Chicago, new national vice president, and Jack Hilmes, Chicago, trustee, will be heard.

Further state conferences will be resumed Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Part of the delegates plan to attend the University of Missouri Homecoming football game with Nebraska university Saturday afternoon.

Decrease In The War Casualties

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The nation's war casualty toll took another downward turn today for the fifth consecutive week.

The new total for the armed forces is 1,069,632, including 922,645 for the army and 146,558 for the navy. This is 429 under last week's, a decrease accounted for largely by recovery of men previously listed as missing.

A breakdown on army casualties this week and last week:

Killed, 216,966 and 208,966; wounded, 571,330 and 571,277; missing, 18,565 and 19,892; prisoners, 115,784 and 122,547.

Navy figures: killed, 55,896 and 53,633; wounded, 80,256 and 80,238; missing, 9,287 and 9,573; prisoners, 1,119 and 1,506.

Of the army prisoners, 107,457 have been exchanged or returned to military control.

Estimate 3,200,000 Families 'Double up'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—Senators heard an official estimate today that 3,200,000 American families will be living "doubled up" by the end of next year.

John B. Blandford, Jr., national housing administration, supplied the estimate to a small business subcommittee, along with an assertion that the pressure for housing threatens "an explosive and disastrous price inflation unless effective preventative measures are taken."

Blandford recommended that congress authorize the president to establish "reasonable controls" over the price of houses when and where needed.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) a member of the subcommittee who believes price ceilings will bring a gigantic black market, opposed this strongly.

Blandford asserted that if the prices of homes are allowed to rise still further, there is a serious prospect of a buyers' strike.

Great Ships in For Navy Day

ship for navy day. President Truman will arrive early Saturday and will commission the giant aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt as his first official Navy Day act.

Celebrate at Park
Escorted by a large motorcade, the president will tour miles of city streets and attend a Navy Day celebration in Central Park.

Some 2,000 bluejackets, marines, Waves and Coast Guardsmen will escort him up lower Broadway from The Battery to city hall.

He will board the battleship Missouri for luncheon with Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet. At 2:30 p. m. (CST), he will board the destroyer Renshaw, veteran of almost two years fighting in the Pacific.

Then, while 1,200 navy fighter and bomber planes roar overhead for two hours in the greatest air show of its kind, the presidential destroyer will steam past the mighty armada lined up in the Hudson river.

An almost continual thunder of 21-gun salutes will mark President Truman's progress north along the long line of ships which includes the battleships New York and Missouri, carriers Midway, Enterprise and Monterey, and other famous veterans of Pacific warfare.

The president returns to Washington by train at 4:45 p. m. (CST).

Rep. Bennett Opposes Dam Proposal

production of $1,250,000 in agricultural crops would be destroyed. He added the department, has been given no opportunity to recommend modification to protect state interests.

Chambers of Commerce in the affected area oppose the project, he continued and the Missouri house of representatives has gone on record against the dam.

Three state representatives from the area are in Washington to oppose the project, he told the committee—Lulu Burns of St. Clair county, C. Vern Peak of Bates county, chairman of the house flood control committee and Allen Bowers of Henry county.

A telegram from Clarence C. Vaughn, president of the Conservation Federation of Missouri with 10,000 members also protested any appropriations for the project, he asserted.

He declared the dam and reservoir would destroy 52 miles of state and federal highways, 40 of railroads, 450 miles of county roads, 10 miles of pipelines, 47 miles of power lines, 212 miles of telephone lines, four resorts, 22 cemeteries, 17 schools, six churches and numerous mines.

Testimony Ends In Anti-Trust Case

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 25—(AP)—Whether the A & P, through its subsidiaries and its huge chain, conspired to secure advantages over competitors and gain a monopoly in the food business in violation of anti-trust laws will be decided by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley.

The case, in which the New York Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and 28 officers and subsidiaries were charged with conspiracy to restrain and monopolize trade in two counts of a criminal information, was debated for 86 days in Judge Lindley's courtroom before it ended yesterday.

About 200 witnesses testified through most of the spring, summer and fall; the court record reached 86 volumes and more than 20,000 pages; and the government alone presented 4,445 documents.

The judge set Jan. 21 for oral arguments, allowed 30 days more for filing briefs, and then will take the case under advisement.

Still Picket at Warner Studios

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—(AP)—The movie strike, which has kept this film capital in a turmoil for 33 weeks, ended for all the industry except Warner Brothers today.

Approximately 400 pickets appeared as usual at Warner's Burbank Studio this morning and strike leader Herbert K. Sorrell gave this explanation for continuance of the walkout at this plant.

"Warner Brothers want to be classed with other producers. But we are not classing them with the others because they used tear gas and water. We are asking Warner to indemnify every person hurt on this picket line."

"Approximately 300 persons will have claims, three or four who were seriously hurt for as much as $500 each. Warner Brothers is going to pay for this. They can afford it. Nobody wants to go to work for Warner Brothers until they pay up."

Warner's answered the picket action by hanging a large sign between two buildings behind the main gate. It read:

"As we have stated before, Warner Brothers will agree and abide by whatever settlement has been arrived at between the industry and the unions at the meeting in Cincinnati. H. M. Warner, president, Warner Brothers, Inc."

Further Delay on Counties' Classification

nose into the county classification maze Wednesday but withdrew without taking final action on the touchy problem when conflict developed.

Three senators asked that action be deferred to provide more time for study of a house approved bill up for final vote. Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley, sponsoring the measure in the senate, finally acceded despite a plea by Sen. H. R. Williams, Republican floor leader, for the senate not to block the key legislation.

Williams pointed out scores of other bills would be hung up until a classification system is established as directed by the 1945 constitution.

Can Go Forward
"I'm just as strong for senatorial courtesy as anyone else," the majority floor leader declared. "But this legislature is faced with a task no legislature ever faced before x x x and we're just getting to the place where we can go forward."

Williams urged his colleagues to take the word of legislators familiar with the classification problem, threshed out in months of house committee work.

If action on county classification is delayed beyond this week, he remained, the senate may not have another chance to work on it for three weeks or more because hearings open Monday in the unprecedented senate trial of Sen. Joseph A. Falzone, St. Louis county Republican.

Ask Further Study
Hawkins at first declined to lay the bill over despite a long standing tradition in the senate that a senatorial request for additional time be granted. Those asking further study were Sens. William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood, who claimed the bill would "force consolidation of many, many small counties," H. B. Hart (R) of Versailles and Frank L. Wilkinson (D) of Kansas City.

"I think we're unduly alarmed," Hawkins said. "I don't think this bill will force the immediate consolidation of counties or break any county because of the salaries it will have to pay."

Yielding finally to the pressure for delay, he promised he would call it up again as soon as the senate reconvenes tomorrow.

Four County Groups
As passed by the house, the measure would establish these four county groups:

Class 1—Counties with an assessed valuation of $300,000,000 or more (St. Louis and Jackson counties).

Class 2—Counties of $50,000,000 to $300,000,000 valuation (Buchanan, Jasper and Greene).

Class 3—The 77 counties with valuations between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000.

Class 4—The remaining 32 counties with valuations under $10,000,000.

Hawkins said the proposal had been endorsed by the state county judges' association and was "the fairest and most reasonable approach to the problem"—one of the biggest thrusts on the assembly by the new constitution.

Mrs. Burger is Again WCTU Head

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 25—(P)—Mrs. Nelle G. Burger of Springfield, Mo., president of the Missouri Women's Christian Temperance Union since 1913, was re-elected at the annual convention yesterday.

Other general officers retained include Mrs. Stella D. Plummer, Kansas City, vice president; Mrs. B. Blanche Butts, St. Joseph; corresponding secretary; Mrs. Louise L. Van Lund, St. Louis, treasurer and Mrs. James Peterson of Kansas City, recording secretary.

State department chairmen remained included Mrs. Georgia Blackwell, Wellsville, who has been chairman of the flower missions and relief department for 44 years; Mrs. Fannie Taylor of Kansas City, chairman of publicity since 1913; and Mrs. J. T. Steels, Webb City, chairman of the project for Bibles in public schools since 1913.

Other key offices went to Mrs. F. U. Norfolk, Moberly; Mrs. R. L. Garner, St. Louis; Miss Mary Lee Hunker, Salisbury; Mrs. R. L. Harris, Kansas City; Mrs. J. A. Norris, Puxico; Mrs. Robert Todd, Plattsburg; Mrs. Margaret Stark, St. Louis; Mrs. Stella S. Stone, Moberly; Mrs. W. L. Burger, of Springfield; Mrs. F. W. Weeks, Joplin; Mrs. H. J. Bone, Kansas City; Mrs. Frank Wright, Webster Groves; Mrs. W. C. Canfield, Kansas City; Mrs. Alysce M. O'Neal, St. Louis.

The 1946 convention will be held at Springfield.

Economists Foresee Higher Factory Profits In 1946

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(P)—Government economists foresee higher factory profits in 1946 than in any war year, even if wage rates are increased to keep average hourly earnings at last April's wartime level.

The figures, which indicate 1946 profits of manufacturing corporations at $6,300,000,000 after payment of taxes, were submitted today to the reconversion advisory board to assist its study of a national wage-price policy.

They were prepared by economists of John W. Snyder's Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, at request of the advisory group headed by O. Max Gardner, former North Carolina governor.

Confer With Truman
Members of the advisory board conferred with President Truman, after debating the wage-price question in a special session in the White House.

OWMR officials later said "no decisions were reached and no position taken" by the advisory board, which is composed of public representatives and spokesmen for labor, management and agriculture.

The government economists forecast that large increases in productivity would occur which in many cases would permit payment of higher wages.

Striking Differences
The OWMR reports emphasized that there were striking differences in costs and profits from industry to industry, so that the averages used would help only in formulating a national policy, not in solving the wage problem of any specific industry.

(The same point was underscored by one official in the Reconversion Office. He said "a lot of misunderstanding" has arisen because of reports naming some flat amount of wage increase as feasible without a rise in prices. No one figure can apply across the board, he stated, because industries differ.)

The decline in earnings for the average worker during 1946 will be accompanied by unemployment—and total loss of earnings—for about 8,000,000 persons by next spring, the OWMR study predicted.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—A lot has been printed about labor strikes, but not much about the silent sit-down strike of certain employers. This is a strike chiefly against OPA and the treasury. Ultimately, of course, it is also a strike against the public.

Many corporations are operating with small staffs determined to "wait out" the OPA and not operate until reduced taxes are put in force. That is one reason why it may be months before you can buy your new radio, your new automobile or your new washing machine. The makers of these commodities, realizing that they cannot hope to sell more than one machine per customer in less than about a four year period, want to sell at their own terms, and at the highest possible profit. That's why they're waiting for OPA ceilings to be removed. That's also why they want to wait until excess profits are voted down.

If they don't sell goods between now and Jan. 1, they keep their 1945 profit level as low as possible, and if the 1945 profit does not exceed the average profit for the 1936-1939 period, they will receive large tax refunds from the government.

That's why practically no radios for the American public are being produced at RCA's Camden, N. J., plant, or at the General Electric plants in Bridgeport, Conn., and Syracuse, N. Y., or in the several large radio plants in the Chicago area. Although there has been time since V-J day for production of at least 3,000,000 radios by Christmas, not over 500,000 will be on the market.

In the field of housing, real estate dealers are concentrating on high-priced housing, and will continue to do so until OPA rent controls are removed. Then they can charge whatever rentals they want for the lower-priced housing; also, for the housing they already have.

Bombs for Congress

Six members of a congressional committee sailing to Europe last August were nearly scared out of their wits while on the Queen Mary. Headed by Representative Louis Rabaut of Michigan, a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee had debated whether to fly or to go by boat. Finally they decided to sail—but they wished they hadn't.

The group which decided to enjoy some relaxation on steamer chairs included Dean Gillespie of Colorado, Robert Jones of Ohio, Butler Hare of South Carolina, Thomas O'Brien of Illinois and Judge John Kerr of North Carolina. Kerr had argued for the boat trip and finally convinced his colleagues.

The congressmen were just beginning to relax on their first night out from New York when an army officer came to Chairman Rabaut with a disturbing message.

"The skipper thought you gentlemen ought to know," he said, "that we have just received a code message from the FBI. They report they have discovered there are a number of incendiary bombs on the boat scheduled to go off at midnight."

"There are several companies of Japanese-American troops on board," the officer told Rabaut, "and Japan is still at war with the United States."

Rabaut called his colleagues together and told them the news. Judge Kerr's first comment was: "I wonder if the skipper has ordered airplanes to hover around the ship."

All were alerted the entire night while the ship's crew

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.

This special drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Sea-Air Power Makes World's Strongest Navy

searched unsuccessfully for the bombs. No trace of them was ever found, but the restful relaxation the congressmen had hoped for was not achieved until they set foot on solid ground once again.

Jap Reparations

U. S. reparations commissioner Ed Pauley will leave for Japan early next month to study the situation there. However, policy on reparations will be determined, not by MacArthur, but back in Washington after Pauley's return. Along with Pauley will go two excellent advisers—Owen Latimore, former adviser to Chiang Kai-Shek and leading expert on the Far East; plus Joseph de Bois of the treasury, who was with Pauley in Europe. Both Latimore and De Bois have definite convictions on rooting out Jap militarism and building up a Japanese democracy. They are very strong supporters of Justice Byrnes' broad-gauged policy for Japan.

James Angell, former Columbia university professor now with the foreign economic administration, will be named to carry on Pauley's work on European reparations. Angell is a sound, progressive economist.

Another excellent choice to be announced by the White House is that of the treasury's Harold Glasser, who will head a special economic and financial mission remaining in Japan to advise MacArthur.

Capitol Chaff

Democratic Congressman Louis Rabaut of Detroit, an A-1 member of the house appropriations committee, will run for governor of Michigan next year. . . . Secretary of Commerce Wallace is worried over the way the Truman administration is drifting. . . . American soldiers in Tokyo are burned up over General MacArthur's decree that the Imperial hotel is off-limits for all enlisted men. Only officers can go there. They are asking if they fought this war to set up a caste system in the Pacific. . . . Harry Truman has told friends that he realizes his political prestige has begun to slip for the first time. He is now facing two deadly difficult problems—reconversion at home, snarled-up relations with Russia abroad. The fact that Truman realizes his troubles in itself is a good thing. . . . Eight hundred marines from the First division are still digging ditches on Okinawa waiting for transportation home. These are the same marines who stormed Guadalcanal so heroically, but, like some other heroes, are soon forgotten. . . .

Simon & Schuster will soon publish the inside story of what happened inside the White House during the last 30 years. It is the diary of the late Col. Edward M. Starling, long head of the White House secret service. . . . Elmer Davis, who gave up his radio news commentaries in 1942 to become head of the OWI, will be back on the air in a few weeks. This time he will broadcast from Washington.

Pacific Bases

Despite army opposition, the navy is not delaying a bit about getting its foothold in the Pacific islands. On the theory that possession is nine-tenths of the law, it is recruiting young men with families to live on these islands at once.

The foreign economic administration, part of which was transferred to the reconstruction finance corporation, is working with the navy on this program.

An enticing picture is laid before prospective recruits, featuring pre-fabricated, air-conditioned houses, fresh meat and vegetables flown in by air, and a network of commercial air lines between islands which the navy plans to operate. Salaries are good, as is government salaries go.

These men will be commercial representatives of the RFC which will become the trading corporation for the islands. Every effort is being made to get the men signed up and on their way this month.

Texas Upset Nazi Big Shot Tables

By NEA Service

Probably the two men who made life most miserable for the doughboys of the 36th Infantry Division were Field Marshal von Rundstedt, author of the giant winter '44-'45 offensive, and fat Hermann Goering, the No. 2 Nazi. So it was with a good deal of satisfaction that the Texans—who wear the blue arrowhead and green T on their shoulders—ended their campaign against the Germans by capturing both of them.

The 36th—the Texas Division—underwent a bloody baptism of fire. It went in cold at Salerno, and suffered heavy casualties before the beachhead was finally secured. Then, without rest, the boys fought their way across the Rapido River, and moved into the savage battle for Cassino. After seven weeks of rest, the 36th made an amphibious landing at Anzio. The Texans captured Velletri and paved the way for the fall of Rome.

A third amphibious landing, in Southern France, and the Texans were racing northward to the Moselle River. By a brilliant maneu-

ESME OF PARIS

ESME OF PARIS by ESME DAVIS

I FORM MY OWN COMPANY

XVI

THE next thing for me to do was to get at my ballet project. I knew that I could form a company with Richard Nemanoff and make a success with it. We had offers from the Mar del Plata Club, one of the biggest Municipal Casinos and theaters which open for the summer season, and from many other places that were anxious to have a company of ballet proceeding from the Colon. I approached Don Faustino da Rosa, the theatrical tycoon and capitalist, and through him obtained a contract with the Teatro Cervantes. This theater was the property of the Dias de Mendozas, a famous old couple of dramatic artists whose company had been coming to Argentina for years and always played to a full house. They had made a fortune there and, in tribute to the Argentine public, had built a magnificent theater. It was pure Spanish in architecture, with an interior of extraordinary beauty, and had cost a fortune. It was just finished and the most expensive and smartest place in Buenos Aires.

For Don Faustino to offer me such a spot to open in was a compliment that left me gasping, and when I talked it over with Nemanoff and Maitre Maurage, they were so enthusiastic that they gave me the courage to sign the contract.

The theater was a big house, and when I started to get the company together and put my decors and costumes into execution, I had no idea of what I was getting into or what expenses I would be confronted with.

Richard Nemanoff and Maurage were working on a percentage basis with me. Nemanoff had some costumes, and Maurage did all the orchestrations, but musicians and artists were on salaries, as was the corps de ballet. It was indeed a gamble, and I spent nearly all the money I had, to have the black-and-white decor of the "Harlequin Noir" properly painted by Peralta, the best scenographer in Buenos Aires, as well as a garden set for the "Sylphides" in the second part of the program. I also had a painted closing curtain and the cyclorama for the diversissements, which was very costly. So by the time we opened, I found myself confronted by an impressive list of debts.

The night before our debut, the evening papers were full of the news that Anna Pavlova had cabled, announcing that she would give some functions almost immediately in the Coliseo. This scared us nearly out of our wits, for there was no possible chance of our company's surviving in competition with hers. However, the contract had been signed, publicity released and the show was ready. I was up to my ears in debts, so there was nothing to do but put on the best performances we could before she arrived.

When we opened that night to a full house, the show went over with a bang. Every critic in Buenos Aires gave us good notices, and both Faustino da Rosa and Dias de Mendozas were delighted with the entire production.

EVAR MENDEZ, whom we had engaged as business manager, lined up work for us for several months ahead as soon as we finished a three-week hold-over at the Cervantes. We played several towns in the Argentine and finally got the contract for the Prado in Montevideo, Uruguay, that Anna Pavlova was supposed to play. It was an open air theater in the Prado Park and had a terrace of concrete instead of a stage. The reason Pavlova did not appear there was supposed to be that she had found out that the Uruguayan Commission of Fiestas, who were sponsoring her engagement, could not build a wooden floor over the concrete to suit her, and so she had turned down the engagement. I don't know why she never came to Buenos Aires that year, but she didn't, and I am sure this was our salvation.

I had been getting letters from mother on every boat, asking what on earth I was doing and why I had not returned as soon as the Colon closed. I had not dared write to either of my parents that I had put on my own company without any money or experience. I also received a letter from father telling me that he would be with my mother for Christmas, and as she complained dramatically that the selfish behavior of both my brother and myself was driving her into her grave, he begged me to get leave from the manager of the company (which made me feel very guilty) and come to London to spend Christmas with them. There was nothing I would refuse my father, but it was an impossibility to leave for Europe before the end of December, when the Mar del Plata engagement terminated. I decided to give the management of the company to Nemanoff and Evar Mendez and leave about the first week of January for Europe, returning late in April for the opening of the Colon in May, for which I had already received my contract as "Primer Ballerina Absoluta," the star role in the ballet.

What I wanted more than anything else in the world was to see my father again and to be with him in the Paris I loved so well—to tell him all about my work and the company, for I hated to deceive him about anything I was doing. He always wrote me wise, kind letters and continued to send me an allowance regularly, although I had written to tell him, after Montevideo, that I was making money and did not require anything from him for the present. I would be 16 in January and already felt very mature.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Diphtheria Can be Wiped Out

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Next to smallpox vaccination, immunization against diphtheria is one of the most effective controls against a dangerous contagious disease.

Diphtheria is an infection of the upper air passages (tonsils, nose, and throat) which is spread by carriers. Infection develops 2 to 5 days after exposure in susceptible persons from direct contact with a case or carrier, with articles soiled by their discharges or by contaminated milk or milk products.

Immunization against diphtheria should be started at the age of 9 months. Several injections are given. Diphtheria toxoid may be combined with other protective inoculations for other childhood diseases. Children should be given a booster dose of diphtheria toxoid upon entering school or whenever they are exposed.

Schick test is done in the second year to determine effectiveness of the preventive inoculations and it is also administered to adolescents and adults to test susceptibility to diphtheria before inoculating them.

Diphtheria antitoxin is the remedy for the infection as it neutralizes the toxin if administered early, but it would be an unnecessary remedy if everyone was protected against the germs.

Modern parents of young children may not realize the seriousness of diphtheria because they have never seen a case. Incidence of infection rises in the fall and winter, and it is a common cause of death in unprotected children. Diphtheria should be suspected in all throat infections in children who have not been immunized. Diphtheria toxoid is used to develop resistance against the infection, while antitoxin is used in its treatment.

Diphtheria is spread by discharges from the nose, throat, body openings and wounds of infected persons. It also may be spread by carriers. Infection develops 2 to 5 days after exposure in susceptible persons from direct contact with a case or carrier, with articles soiled by their discharges or by contaminated milk or milk products.

ver, they surprised the enemy and crossed the heavily fortified river line by night.

The 36th kept moving, and before it rested had established a modern army record of 132 days of consecutive combat. In Germany, the Texans took Colmar and Oberhoffer, and smashed on across the Rhine. Wissembourg fell to the rifles of the 36th, and the Texans planted the Lone Star flag deep in the heart of Germany.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Banquet by 40 And 8 is Given

A banquet was held Tuesday night at the Terry hotel by the Seventh District of the Forty and Eight of the American Legion.

Five McDonough of the Chief d'Gare of Marshall of Voltaire, 333rd of the Seventh, presided at the meeting.

The principle address was given by John Newberry, grand Chief d'Gare.

Also present was the secretary, Freeman Engler.

The program was given by the Forty and Eight club of Sedalia, with W. A. Stephenson, in charge of arrangements.

About forty attended the banquet with visitors from Higginsville, Marshall, Slater and Green Ridge.

Movie Strike Called Off

Employees Ordered To Return To Work,
Green Announces

By The Associated Press
The Movies, longest, bitterest, most costly, and most violent strike virtually ended Wednesday, when the American Federation of Labor ordered workers back on the job and picket lines were withdrawn from all but two studio gates, following an industry labor conference in Cincinnati.

AFL President William Green announced the Federation's Executive Council had directed "all striking employees to return to work immediately." These have been estimated to number between 3,000 and 7,000.

Termination of the strike was ordered as Hollywood police arrested between 600 and 700 persons in mass roundups of pickets and strike sympathizers at the Paramount and RKO studios.

Other Labor Phases
Other labor high spots included: 1. General Motors and CIO United Automobile Workers continued wage talks as G-M employees vote on whether to strike. Chrysler workers will vote today.

2. SKF Industries, Inc., of Philadelphia, sued the CIO United Steel Workers for $2,000,000 damages because of mass picketing.

3. American Air Lines flights in and out of Chicago were suspended because of a walkout in sympathy with New York employees of the lines.

4. The number of persons directly or indirectly involved in labor disputes remained at about the same level as on Tuesday, 225,000.

4-Hour Conference
The movie strike was called off after a four-hour conference of AFL leaders and Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Producers Association, Donald M. Nelson, representing Independent picture producers.

The strike began with a controversy between the AFL Conference of Studio Unions and the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees over which union had jurisdiction over 77 set decorators.

G-M-CIO Negotiate
The nation's biggest operating corporation and largest union—General Motors and the CIO United Automobile Workers—continued negotiations on wages while the company's employees in 97 plants voted on whether a strike should be called to enforce wage demands.

In Philadelphia, SKF Industries, Inc., sued a CIO United Steel Workers local and seven of its members for $2,000,000 damages in connection with picketing violence at strikebound plants.

The company also asked for an injunction to halt mass picketings. A labor holiday for 250,000 CIO members in the Philadelphia area was proposed as a demonstration of sympathy with the SKF strikers.

Praise Ayres As a Good GI

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25—(AP)—Sgt. Lew Ayres, former film star shunned by the public when he refused to bear arms as a conscientious objector, is back in his homeland today—a soldier praised by his buddies as "a good guy and a good G. I."

Yellowed from atabrine and looking older than his 36 years, Ayres said he was uncertain about his future.

"I don't mean to be evasive about my plans, but just now I have the bewildered look and feeling of any soldier coming back through the Golden Gate," he grinned.

Typical of the change in public feeling toward Ayres was his reception here yesterday when he walked down the gangplank of the transport Cape Meares after 22 months of service in the Southwest Pacific.

It was a friendly and curious crowd that applauded him a little more loudly than it did the other 1,756 army men who debarked from the ship.

Now, he thinks his army career is nearly over since he has 79 points. He was sent yesterday to Camp Stoneman for processing and then expects to go to the separation center at Fort MacArthur.

Award Medal to Joe E. Brown

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—(AP)—Comedian Joe E. Brown shed his pattern of laugh provoking gags last night as the familiar role of star was thrust upon the movies' funny man at a testimonial dinner to Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe.

Brown, who tramped in combat theaters to entertain thousands of American servicemen, was awarded the bronze star medal, the highest military award for a civilian.

It was pinned on Brown, who was master of ceremonies, after a surprise announcement of the honor, by Brig. Gen. E. B. Seabee, representing Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding general of the army ground forces and formerly commander of the Sixth Army Group in the European theater of operations.

The medal was in recognition of the comedian's "meritorious achievements" in entertaining more than 100,000 American soldiers in North Africa, Sicily and Italy in 1944.

"You're seeing the raw edges of Joe E. Brown," the movie star said in response. "Brown, the comedian—but I don't feel funny now. I'm thinking of the thousands of men I knew that didn't come back and of the thousands who came back and don't find a medal waiting."

Josie Bishop's Mine Is a Million Dollar Source for Uranium

Josie Bishop has waited for years to be vindicated in her claim that her Mojave desert radium mine was rich in pitchblende. Confirmation came this year, when she was offered $1,000,000 for her buried treasure. Here Mrs. Bishop stands beside one of her claims. The mine may prove to be an important source for uranium, used in the atomic bomb.

By ETHEL BOGARDUS
NEA Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO—Josie Bishop owns a radium mine. Pitchblende, radium-bearing ore, is also the source for uranium—the vital ingredient in the atomic bomb.

For that reason, her buried treasure, 600 feet under the Mojave desert, is even more important than it was in 1937, when tests of her Red Rock mine first revealed the presence of pitchblende.

The discovery created an international furor. The Curie Institute in Paris made tests and was convinced. The precious substance was then—and still is—mined at only one place in the world, and that was in Canada. One other mine in the Belgian Congo had long since closed down. Mining interests began to bid for drilling leases on the Red Rock claims.

Fantastic riches were dangled before the eyes of Josie Bishop self-styled desert rat. She was feted in San Francisco, honored in New York. She planned a home for crippled children—and a refuge for worn-out prospectors. She brought with her to the streets of the cities a whiff of pungent desert holly.

Claim Mine "Salted"
Then an "official" test of sample ores from her mine showed no trace of radium. There were innumerable and dark hints that the mine was "salted." Hurt, outraged, disillusioned with the world of business in which she admitted "I'm a fool," Josie Bishop returned to the desert to lick her wounds.

But she never gave up. In the scrawling hand that is the despair of her correspondents, she wrote mining folk the world over. This year vindication crowned her efforts. Engineers of the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corp. made new and exhaustive tests. They came up with assurance that radium ore is indeed present in Josie Bishop's mine. Triumphant waving the report under the noses of her one-time critics, the doughty desert rat came back. She confronted her former business associate—and wound up with a contract calling for a million dollars—not in a lump sum, but at $250 a month until the mine starts producing, then on a profit-sharing basis until the million is paid.

"I'm getting old," freely admits the gray-haired woman who is better acquainted with a pick-axe than with a bank book.

Honesty Proven
"I want to enjoy some of that money before I die. I've proved I'm honest—that's all that matters. Look—they're paying me to live in my own home on my own desert, where there's sage brush and I can breathe. I can still haul water for my morning bath—but I can't stand people thinking I'm not honest."

Daughter of the sheriff of Silver City, N. M., Julie was born in a room over the jail. Her earliest memories are of Billy the Kid and the famed bandit Geronimo. With her prospector husband, she moved to Mojave, and in between births of her six children, sought gold and silver—and found some.

"A prospector is a fellow with a can of beans and a crust of bread with no butter on it, and that's more truth than poetry," she says grimly, "but he never stops trying. Once a prospector always a prospector."

The end of the trail has brought Josie Bishop gray hair and dimming eyes. It has led her right back to her home in the desert—but left her a good name, her memories—and a good chance at that million dollars.

War Veterans' Loan Fund Bill Killed

68-51 Vote In Missouri House
Along Party Lines

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 25—(P)—The house of representatives killed a bill Wednesday to set up a state fund to guarantee business loans to Missouri veterans of World War II.

The vote was 68-51, split almost exactly along party lines with several members of the Republican opposition to the bill leaving the chamber to avoid voting. Eight members of the GOP majority voted for the measure.

Offered by two Democrats, Minority Floor Leader Roy Hamlin and Rep. Francis P. Healy of St. Louis, the bill would have allocated $5,000,000 from the state's surplus for guaranteeing loans up to $3,000 for servicemen who would borrow money from regular lending firms. A board composed of the Adjutant General of Missouri and two members appointed by the governor would administer the fund.

'Political Football'
That was the provision that prompted Speaker Pro Tem Murray Thompson (R) of Webster county to declare the bill a "political football for a political-minded adjutant general and the governor."

Another Republican, Rep. R. J. King of Franklin county said he could attest to the political consciousness of Adjutant General John A. Harris by proving that Brig. Gen. Harry Gambrel, chief of the Missouri guard, has been "fired" recently for political reasons.

General Harris told reporters later that Gambrel had not been relieved, that he was on a week's leave of absence to go pheasant hunting and that he was expected to return to his post Oct. 27.

Rep. James P. Boyd (D) of Monroe county deplored bringing politics into a discussion of aiding veterans. "My patriotism rises above my political party," he declared.

Defends Governors Record
Rep. C. P. Turley (D) of Carter county defended Gov. Phil M. Donnelly's record and denied Thompson's charge that Donnelly would let political expediency guide his actions in appointing members to such a board.

But, Turley said, he wasn't sure whether the bill was the proper approach to aiding veterans. The federal G. I. bill of rights apparently takes care of all the veterans' needs, he said.

"I am voting against the bill not because of the opposing argu-

Returns After Two Years Overseas

T/Sgt. Willard H. Lane received his honorable discharge from military service October 6 at Leavenworth, Kas., after spending two years in Australia, New Guinea, Dutch New Guinea and the Philippines. He enlisted at Coffeyville, Kas., September 27, 1942, and went overseas in October of 1943. He received ribbons and bronze stars for the New Guinea and Philippines campaigns, the Philippine Liberation ribbon and the Good Conduct ribbon.

Mr. Lane and family will move back to Iola, Kas., in November. At present they are visiting Mrs. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Terrell, 2009 East Tenth street.

A suggestion that the bill did little for the servicemen and much for the lending agencies came from Rep. Emmett Bartram (R) of Nodaway county.

Rigid Army Tests

Before trucks are accepted by the U. S. Army, they must undergo rigid service tests, among which is climbing of a man-made "hill" having a 43-degree incline.

Airline Grew Fast

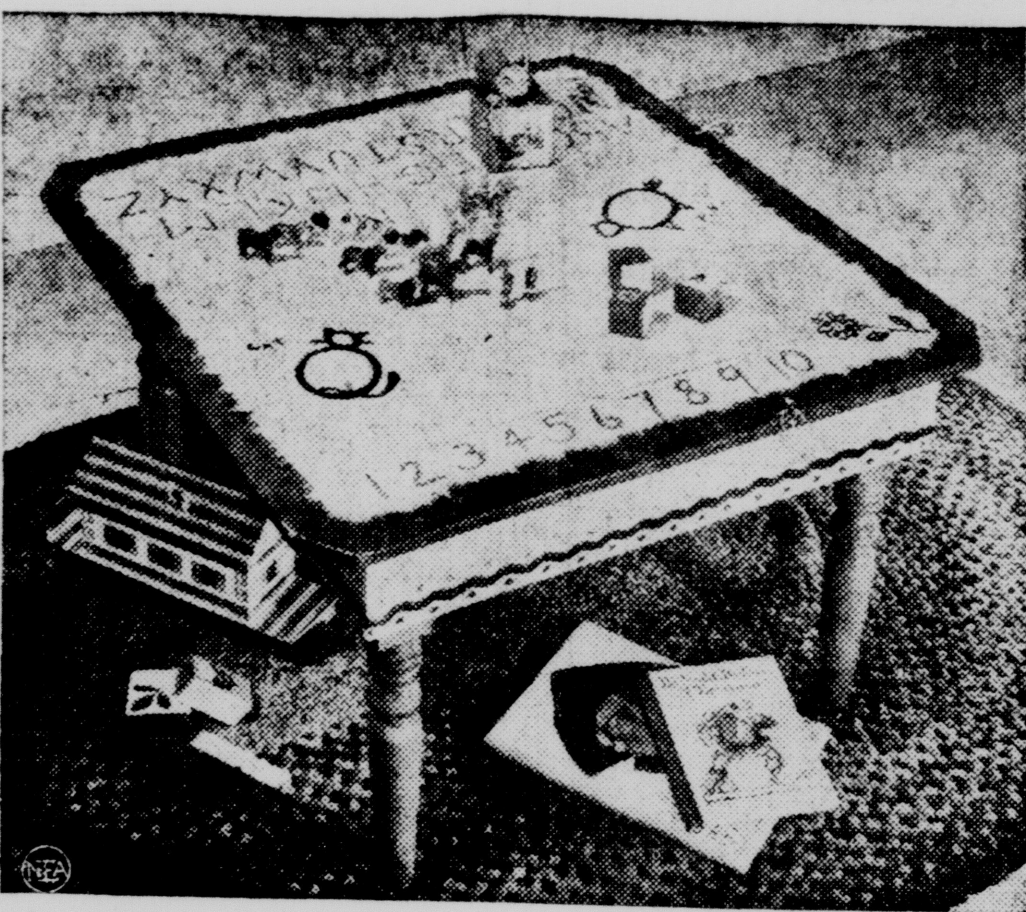

In the first year of its daily transcontinental operation, one Canadian airline carried 21,569 passengers. Its 1944 estimate was 169,734 passengers.

Coldest Winter

During the severe winter of 1779-1780, which was eastern North America's coldest winter, Chesapeake bay was frozen solid from its head to the mouth of the Potomac, and heavy wagons traveled across the ice.

Play Table for Tiny Tots

It's difficult to keep children occupied during the winter months when stormy weather often keeps them indoors for days. One of the best diversions is a play table like the one above, which makes it fun to learn A-B-C's and how to count.

This one, designed by Peter Hunt, was made from an old kitchen table by cutting down the legs to suit the size of the youngster. Painted to match the furniture in the nursery, it is trimmed with a row of numerals from one to 10 on one side and the letters of the alphabet on the opposite side. Simple figures of familiar domestic animals and flowers make it easy for Junior or Sister to learn to call them by name.

Death Not Their Fault
A commandant of the Burmese religion forbids the taking of any animal life. Burmese fishermen evade it by throwing their catch on the river bank to dry, with the contention that if the fish are silly or illogical enough to die it is their own fault.

Preserved Stockings
London women, when the silk stocking shortage threatened to become acute, stocked up with big lots, and solved the problem of keeping the hose in good condition by sealing them hermetically in jam jars.

Huskers Hope To Upset the M. U. Tigers

Nebraskans Recall The 1927 Upset Tigers Gave Them

By Skipper Parick

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25—(AP)—The current crop of Nebraska Cornhuskers were toddling around at the end of their mothers' apron strings back in 1927 when Missouri's Tigers scored an upset victory all the old-time Huskers would like to see squared at Columbia Saturday.

Shucking along towards an undefeated season just 18 years ago to the month, the Cornhuskers were talking about a Rose Bowl bid when they tangled with Missouri at Columbia in what was doped to result in a Nebraska win.

Nebraska, led by the power running of Blue Howell and Glenn Presnell, scored early in the first quarter and didn't seem to mind when the try for extra point was blocked. They were pushing the Tigers all over Rollins Field.

Missouri got the ball near midfield in the second period and Coach Gwinn Henry sent two crippled backs—George Flamank and Bert Clark—into the game. The Tigers quickly scored on a pass from Flamank to Clark, and the two backs left the game.

Even when Paul Maschuff kicked the extra point, a Nebraska victory still appeared a sure thing.

The Huskers netted around 350 yards rushing, Missouri 20. The Huskers made 18 first downs, Missouri 5.

Missouri won the game 7-6. Top-heavy favorites to win over Nebraska Saturday, Missouri Coach Chauncey Simpson is doing an excellent job worrying about how the Huskers might bounce back after taking four wallopings without a win this season.

The cause of Simpson's worry was not clear. He had Bill Della-stations, all-conference back, working in practice yesterday and other squadmen were reported in good condition.

At Lincoln, Neb., Coach George (Potsy) Clark shifted Cletus Fischer from the line to left half to add speed to the Nebraska attack. Only two days ago Clark moved Halfback Bobby Costello to center in an effort to strengthen the front wall.

The Oklahoma Sooners, a 10-to-1 shot to defeat Kansas State at Manhattan Saturday, report the loss for the week of Wingback Joe Richardson who is suffering from a severe throat infection.

Kansas State welcomed the return to duty of End Bill Weaver and Halfback Jim Danielson, both injured since start of the season.

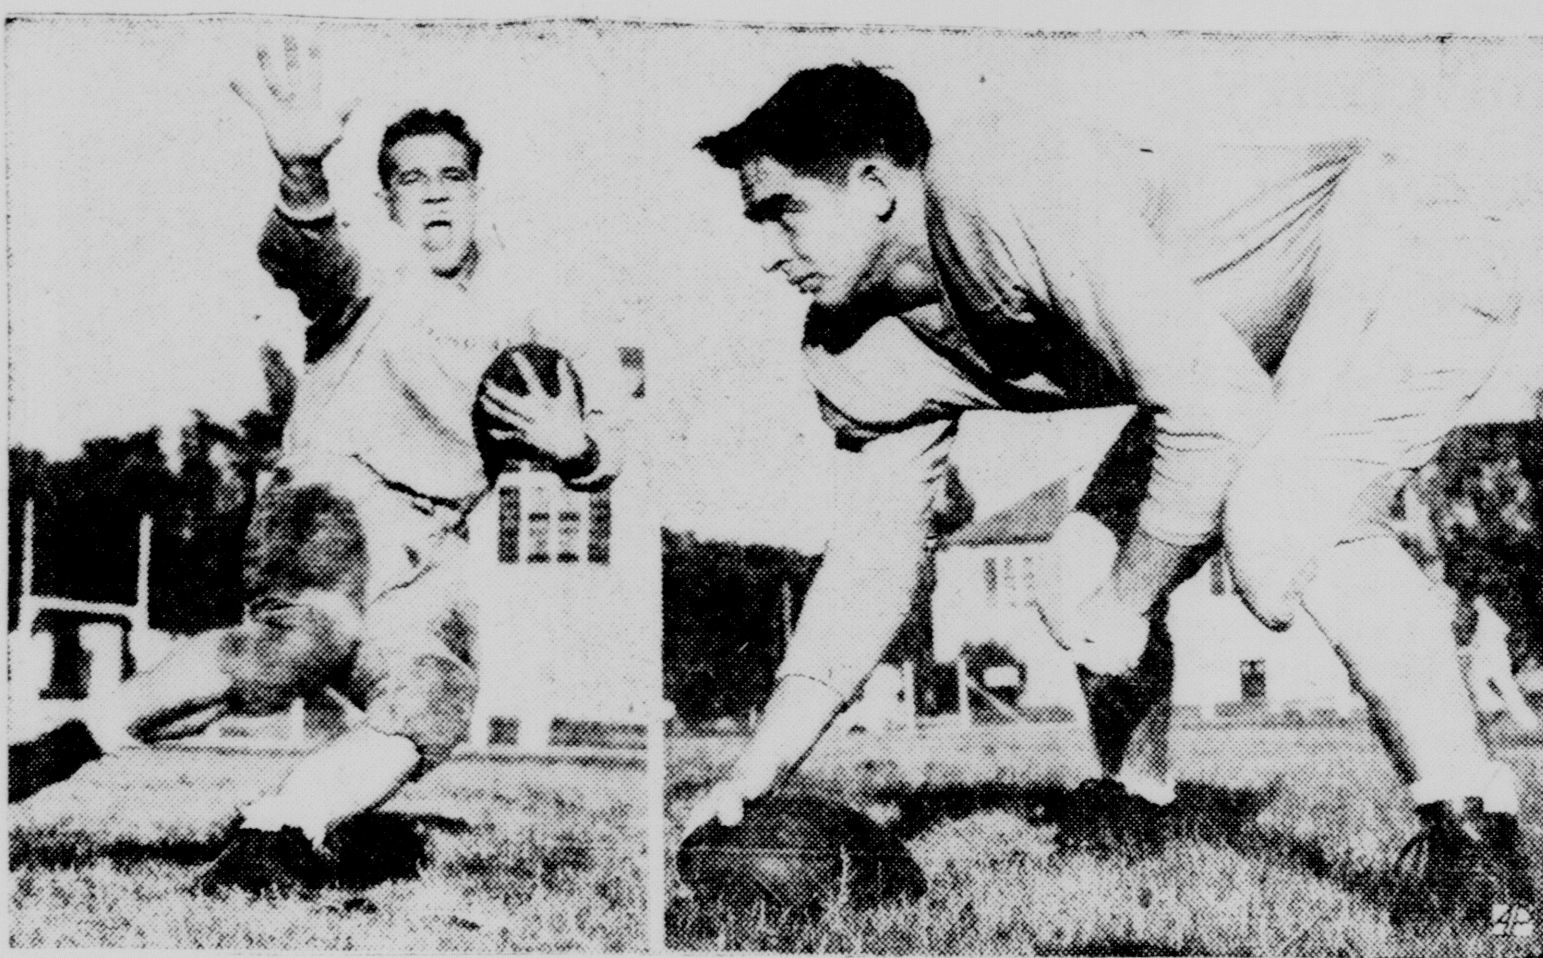

The Kansas Jayhawks practice yesterday had Frank Pattee and Charley Conroy throwing passes all over the lot in a drill for their game with Wichita in Wichita Saturday.

Iowa State has an open date this week.

Plenty of Bands
COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 25—(AP)—The University of Missouri, without a band of its own this year, will have six visiting bands to play for Tigers Navy Day football game with the University of Nebraska here Saturday.

Included in the music making procession will be a Naval band from the Ottumwa, Ia., Navy Station; a 75-piece girls' band from Central College at Fayette, Kemper Military's Marching band from Key men in the Missouri Tigers' three-game winning streak have been freshman halfback Loyd Brinkman (left) and Ralph Stewart (right), veteran center recently discharged from the armed forces. Boonville, and high school bands from Centralia and Hickman and Jefferson schools of Columbia.

Between the halves activity will be devoted to a Navy Day observance.

Springfield for Recreation Spot

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 25—

(AP)—Construction of a baseball park, recreation center, and municipal golf course here is pending a vote Tuesday by city council members on a proposal to set aside $100,000 for the projects.

The money is surplus earnings from city utilities.

The park board now holds options to buy 159 acres one-half mile northeast of the city limits on which the project would be built. The St. Louis Cardinals are interested in the baseball diamond since their formerly leased park was sold last winter.

City commissioners say the $100,000 is idle money which will be surplus after obligations are met and a $350,000 reserve fund set up.

Clarksburg Begins 17th Annual Tourney

The seventeenth annual junior boys basketball and high school girls' volleyball tournaments sponsored by the Clarksburg high school, got underway Wednesday night with the sponsoring team advancing into the championship brackets in both tournaments.

In the game between the Clarksburg and the Tipton girls in volleyball, Clarksburg won 56 to 7; while in the game between Stover and Latham, Stover won 55 to 10. The losing teams dropped into the Consolation bracket.

Clarksburg boys edged out a 15 to 11 victory over Stover in the boys' basketball tourney while the California boys advanced, defeating Tipton by a 17 to 9 score.

As usual this tournament is attracting both volleyball and basketball fans from the surrounding communities to Clarksburg, with sixteen boys cage teams in that tournament and 13 girls' teams in the volleyball race.

Boys' teams are from the following high schools: Eldon, Latham, New Franklin, Ottoville, Centertown, Gravois Mills, Eugene, Jamestown, Russellville, Syracuse, Tipton, California, Stover.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—(AP)—Lt. Comdr. Bernie Masterson, coach of the St. Mary's navy Pre-flight school grid team, can outdo even army in using the "two team" system. . . . Bernie has a team that includes seven former pros which he uses against service clubs and a strictly amateur eleven that plays against college teams. . . . The reason the amateur trimmed UCLA the other night was that Frank Albert, just in from North Carolina Pre-flight, did 57 minutes of first class quarterbacking after only three days of practice. . . . The women's professional golf association, which called off its initial tourney this year because of unraveled travel, is dickering for dates for a 1946 women's national open in August. . . . After the Yanks' Charlie Keller went bird hunting near Wellsville, N. Y., the other day he told the local nimrods: "I can hit Bob Feller's fireball a lot easier than those exploding partridges."

Shorts and Shells

When Paul Richards, the lanky Tigers' catcher, performed at Muskogee, Okla., back in 1928, he was a utility infielder who threw so hard the first baseman complained he couldn't see the ball and, at times, served as an am-dextrous pitcher, but his best trick was to start from first base at a dead run backwards. And fans recall that the pitchers used to throw the ball away in bewilderment. . . . Virginia Tech's football team started eleven freshmen when it upset Maryland last week. . . . Penn State's Chick Werner, the only track coach who turned out I. C. 4-A winners both indoors and outdoors in one year, is out of the navy after serving on the staff of Comdr. O. O. "Scrappy" Kessing in the Pacific.

Cleaning the Cuff

Nick Londres, the Detroit promoter, has signed old Chalky Wright to fight Leroy Wills at the Olympia, Nov. 2. . . . A Cleveland city councilman reports that if he could get 100 tickets for Navy-Notre Dame, he's convinced he could be re-elected. If he could get 100 for Army-Navy he probably could be elected president. . . . The new American Association of college baseball coaches expects to have 150 members by the time the mid-winter meetings come along. . . . Joe Becker, who hunts diamond talent for the Red Sox farms all summer, spends his winters hunting typographical errors as proof-reader in the Joplin, Mo., Globe. . . . Those errors you saw some

Citation Given Glen E. White

ABOARD THE USS DASH-ELL IN THE PACIFIC (Delayed)—Glen E. White, seaman, first class, USNR, of Sedalia, Mo., was presented the Bronze Star Medal here by his commanding officer, Cdr. Douglas L. L. Cordner, USN, for meritorious achievement in operations against the enemy last April off Okinawa.

The text of the citation follows: "For meritorious achievement in connections with operations against the enemy while serving as a 40-mm director operator aboard a United States destroyer under heavy coordinated aerial attack by enemy forces off Okinawa on April 14, 1945. His skill and courage were instrumental in shooting down two enemy planes. He stood fast at his post pouring a withering volume of fire into the enemy planes when it looked as if these planes would crash into his station."

The award was made by Vice Admiral Frederick C. Sherman, USN, commander of a fast carrier task force.

White's wife lives at 403 Park avenue, Sedalia. Before entering the navy, White was employed by the Purity Bakeries. He was graduated from Smith-Cotton high in 1928.

First navy aircraft to have tri-cycle landing gear is the Douglas BT-1 Destroyer, a dive bomber.

Katy Diamond Anniversary

Observance at Parsons Feature Pioneer Days

PARSONS, Kans., Oct. 25—This town the railroad built on the Kansas prairie in the seventies will don pioneer garb, carry six-guns and listen to the beat of Indian tom-toms the week of Oct. 29 as Parsons citizens are hosts to the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad for the last and most lavish of the Katy's 75th birthday celebrations.

Parsons, who took its name from the railroad's first president, Levi Parsons, will hold a week-long open house for the railroad that gave it birth. Thousands of visitors from throughout the Southwest are expected for the celebration which will be a six-day reenactment of the history of early day Kansas.

Replica of First Train
Festivities will start Monday, Oct. 29, when an exact replica of the first train to enter Parsons will meet a special train bearing R. J. Morfa, Katy board chairman; President Donald V. Fraser, and other officials. These officials will be taken into the city aboard the train where they will be met by hundreds of Parsons citizens in pioneer garb and 50 Kiowa Indians in full war dress.

Mr. Morfa will be the principal speaker that evening at a dinner which will formally start the week-long Katy Diamond Anniversary party.

The remainder of the week will be given over to daily pageants, special programs, pioneer festivals and displays of Katy equipment, both new and old. The program will close Saturday, Nov. 3, with a two-mile-long parade depicting the story of the Southwest and the Katy. The parade will include more than 30 bands, hundreds of historical displays, and several stagecoaches, Conestoga wagons, and other items borrowed from the Fort Leavenworth museum for the occasion. Saturday night, Mr. Morfa will be initiated into the Commache Indian tribe.

Jew-Baiters Salute Jews

It was a bitter dose for Jew-persecuting Nazis when the big German prisoner-of-war camp near Haarlem, Northern Holland, was placed in charge of a British Army brigade of Jewish troops, who supervise while prisoners do all the work, from cleaning latrines to rough farm labor. The photo shows two prisoners, guarded by the soldier with tommygun, saluting a Jewish officer.

Indonesian President Firm In Independence Movement

By RALPH MORTON

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 25—(P)—President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic" declared that "no power on earth" can stop the independence movement in the Dutch East Indies, and said he would invite committees from the U. S. congress and British commons to visit Indonesia to see "the true situation."

He promised an "open door" policy as far as foreign investors are concerned, adding:

"We don't want to throw the Dutch into the sea. They can maintain their financial holdings here. These things can be arranged by a treaty with the Dutch."

"Indonesians Understand"
Soekarno in an interview declared "every Indonesian understands why I collaborated with the Japanese. The Japanese tried to use the Indonesians for their own purposes and let us prepare for our independence under false promises. But we turned the tables on them. We prepared for the hour of liberty and then took the matter into our own hands. And no power on earth can take it from us."

Soekarno said he had spent the last two weeks in western Java attempting to prevent his people from resorting to violence. He had "great difficulty," he added, trying to restrain "the extremist leaders."

In Complete Control
Soekarno said his administration was in complete control of public services in the East Indies and added that the services were running smoothly, "to the wonderment of Dutch colonizers and despite chaotic conditions generally."

Back to Reside After Discharge

Sgt. Richard Trueman received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army on October 20 and has returned home, where he will reside, with his wife and son at 1008 1/2 West Third street.

Sgt. Trueman has been in service three years, ten months of which was served with the 94th division in the European area. He has four campaign stars. In May Sgt. Trueman returned to the United States and since that time has been stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark.

Visits on Leave After Boot Training

S2/C and Mrs. Omer Weller have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Weller, of Green Ridge, during his seven-day leave which followed boot training at San Diego, Calif. Also visitors at the Weller home were his brother and sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Weller of Versailles, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brown and sons of Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Willard of Kansas City. Seaman Weller will return to San Diego for reassignment the first of the week.

Seas Wash Up Stray Mines

Explode Along English Coast During Gales

By JACK S. SMITH

LONDON, Oct. 25—(P)—Mountainous seas and 100-mile-an-hour gales washed deadly stray mines ashore over a 75-mile stretch of seafloor and flooded holiday towns Wednesday in Britain's worst storm in 20 years.

Four mines exploded under the Isle of Wight cliffs, shattering nearby windows, and another live mine was hurled ashore onto a coastal road near Brighton. Authorities closed the road. The town of Abbotsey was shaken by a mine explosion.

Three Persons Killed
At least three persons were killed as the storm, already raging into its second night, spread ruin along the battered south coast. Weathermen forecast another 24 hours of the gales which have paralyzed English channel shipping.

Huge concrete "dragon's teeth," part of the local coastal defenses near Eastbourne, were undermined by the seas, and were tilted or felled as though by an artillery barrage.

So far none of the mines has caused serious damage. Waves and tide sent tons of water crashing over the sea wall at Hastings, and rowboats rescued shoppers and office workers marooned there. Towering waves smashed against the seawall at Brighton, famed resort city. Two mines washed up there were neutralized safely.

Knocked Down Tower
Winds knocked down a 200-foot steel television tower in London, crushing six houses, but no one was injured.

The steamer Hantonia which left Southampton last night for the channel islands with 336 passengers was forced to turn back. Lifeboat crews from shore rescued a man and his wife when their auxiliary schooner sank in St. Ives Bay.

A flagpole felled by the gale killed an 8-year-old boy at Hinchley, Yorkshire. A falling tree killed a school girl at Braintree, Essex, and an 80-year old woman was crushed when the chimney crashed through the roof of her Hastings home.
